ABOUT EZ FLEX

QUALITY AND VALUE, ROLLED INTO ONE!

EZ Flex Sport Mats is a family-owned and operated company proudly manufacturing quality lightweight athletic mats for wrestling, martial arts, cheerleading, gymnastics, fitness, and more. EZ Flex's founder, Jeff Anderson, got his start with Spieth Anderson (S/A) in 1974. S/A is a gymnastics equipment manufacturer based out of Ontario, Canada established by his parents, Murray and Dolly Anderson. For over 20 years Jeff worked in every facet of the gymnastics equipment business, including the development of carpet bonded foam. Starting from gluing carpet to foam, S/A eventually became the first company in North America to use a revolutionary flame lamination process for mat construction in place of glue.

In 1996 Jeff launched Dollamur Sport Surfaces, headquartered in Fort Worth, Texas, to focus on further developing lightweight mats for wrestling and gymnastics. Dollamur quickly popularized the lightweight style wrestling mat and along with research and development chief Gary Heartsfield, created the world's first flexible rolling system for bonded foam sport mats. This innovation propelled the company to widespread success, and this feature is now commonly found on lightweight athletic mats. Motivated to spend more time with his family, Jeff sold Dollamur to an investment firm in 2005.

EZ Flex was established by Jeff Anderson and Gary Heartsfield in 2010 and is now a leading company in its field and growing at a rapid pace. Jeff's passion to build a quality product drew him back into the industry. This vision allows us to continue to provide superior athletic mats made in the United States to customers worldwide while providing excellent customer service.

Our Mission: To produce quality athletic mats, while providing exceptional customer service.

All Air Floors are made extra-wide at 6.6' (2m), with the choice of 3.875", 8" or 10.6" thicknesses.

Each includes an electric turbo-pump that is able to inflate the floor within 7 minutes, and center line for orientation during tumbling passes.

SHIPPING INFORMATION

Full-size mats are shipped via freight carrier, while most home mats and mat accessories ship via FedEx Ground. When placing an order that will be shipped via freight carrier, customers are required to read through and approve the following delivery terms. This helps ensure that proper receiving procedures are followed, minimizing the potential for freight issues.

Freight Delivery Terms

Your new EZ Flex Mat will ship soon and there are some important procedures you need to follow when you receive the shipment. The mats will be shipped by Common Carrier such as UPS Freight, R&L Carriers or FedEx Freight. We will email you the specific information including tracking numbers when the mat leaves our facility.

When your mat is delivered you will be responsible for the following:

1. Provide personnel to move the mat rolls from the truck into the building. The driver is responsible only to get the mat to the end of the trailer. A two-wheel hand truck is the safest way to move the mat rolls. Two people can easily move the mat.
2. Count the number of packages and be sure it matches the Bill of Lading (delivery papers).
3. Inspect the packages as you unload them from the truck. Since the mats may have been moved on and off of trucks in route, the possibility exists for damage. Minor scratches or nicks to the foam is normal, however, large punctures, cuts or missing foam that will affect the performance of the mat are not acceptable. We recommend that you remove and save the plastic bags by cutting the nylon tie and pulling off the bags. Look over the interior packaging for any signs of damage.
4. If you find anything that is significant, you must note the damage on the Bill of Lading prior to signing for the mats. If you note the damage, we will be able to file a claim with the freight company for repair or replacement of the damaged section. If there does not appear to be damage to the product but the bag looks torn or ripped, write 'possible damage'. Always be as specific as possible when recording damage notes on Bill of Lading.
5. If damage is not noted and the mats are signed for, you are accepting the mats in the condition received and neither the freight company nor EZ Flex can be held responsible for the damage. EZ Flex will however work with you to repair any damage as economically as possible.
6. You only have 5 days to report concealed damage. This is damage to the product that is not apparent until the package has been opened.
7. If you have any questions, call EZ Flex immediately: 877-939-3539.

There is potential for a small amount of moisture to be present on the mat because water is used in the manufacturing process. To help dry the small amount of moisture on your mats, you can stand them up on end and they will dry out. Alternatively, you can lay the mats down and they will dry after a short period of time. If the packaging is severely soaking wet, this is abnormal and you must write this description down on the Bill of Lading. Once the mat is off the truck and the packaging is inspected, sign the delivery papers and keep a copy for your records. Afterwards, you can unroll the mats and check markings and appearance.

* Delivery terms subject to change. Updated delivery terms available at ezflexmats.com.
